The real trouble with the average farmer is that he spends his money before he makes it, pledging his un harvested crops to the repayment of advances made by bankers and time arrives the crops or at least a major portion of them belong not to the man whose labor made them possible, but to the man who provided the farmer with the necessities of life while making his crop. Of course the farmer is not the only person who spends ahead of his earning. Many of the rest of us do as much of it as we can, but no sane banker would allow a business men to follow such a policy as a regular practice. One reason is that the profits in business are less certain even than farming profits. The very stability of farming as an industry in this way operates as a handicap in that it is temptation always present to borrow money and mortage growing crops. If the farmers of America could get by one year without mortgaging their crops the greatest single step toward gradual and orderly market ing would be taken. There is always

We spoke of this last week but it will do no harm to say it over and make the plan a little plainer. There are twenty-four prison farms in Texas. One for the women. One for the tubercular convicts. One for the white boys and one for the negro boys. One for the honor convicts and so on until the twenty four groups and the 4,000 convicts are all located. These farms are located in different places in the State. And it is Mrs. King's plan this year to have a real Christmas Tree on each of these farms. If you are looking for $100.00 diamonds for $79.98, this message may not interest you, but you ought to read it just the same.

We know of course that there is a wonderful appeal in advertising $100.00 diamonds at $79.98. But we do not feel that we can win and hold the patronage of intelligent people through advertising quality merchandise at less than it is worth.

In fact exaggeration brings one sc close to the border line of misrepresentation that we believe it unwise to engage in the practice at all.

We are so confident that we are willing to guarantee our prices as low as any for the same quality.

SENIOR CLASS ENTERTAINED BY ENGLISH TEACHUR

Wilton W. Cook, hend of the English department in the local high Commingnous Commingn class, was a delightful host in the beautiful home of Mrs. A. C. Beger complimenting the senior class Wed-

Seventy-five guests were made to feel the Christmas spirit for the atosphere all about made it known that Santa Ciaus was soon to arrive. The interior was made quite attractive in the holiday colors pointing to the central attraction, a large Christmas tree standing la the center of the breakfast room Not only was the tree pretty, but it friends through Santa Claus. Yes Santa was there and a good one. He had a word of cheer, and greetigs for every one from the frozen North land. Who was he? Well, so great was his impersonation, we'll have to compliment Geo. W. Backus for kinds, and much were served by three young ladies of the Junior

After Santa had remembered ali that were present, he brought forth a beautifully bound package to Mr. Cook, and requested that he open it in the presence of all the guests. After the contents had been reached it was found to be a special made Elgin watch with the following engraving to explain the why and weherofer of it all:

"The Seniors of 25 to Wilton W. Cook, V. H. S.

The class and Mr. Cook are indebaed to Mrs. Boger, Mrs. R. L. More and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Backus for assisting in making the evening a success. The following wembers of the high school facult were present. W. T. Lofland, E. W. Shepherd, Misses Edyth Rhen Williams, Thelma Lockwood and Lorena Friend.
